Typcycle. A typeface by Braden Frazer.

Typcycle is a grab-and-go kind of typeface. Instead of being another font that is concerned with ascenders, descenders, serifs and multiple character heights and widths, it's kept to a bare minimum with a single height, width, and geometric style based on circles for each character. Like a chainless bicycle that's always ready when you need it, Typcycle is airy and simple, ready for whereever you need to use it.
